It was finally adopted umain outly with a slight altercation. The discussion developed much heat, and there were unmistakable signs of hostility to the temple scheme by many prominent delegates. Many questions were asked, but all were apparently satisfied in the end. Memorial services and miscellaneous addresses occupied the remainiter of the session.

"The fellows who watched the proceedings and membership roll of the Amortnes in this city, were not at all smart—not a little bit,"—said a well-known Chicago drummer in my hearing the other day. "I must tell you how the trick was turned in the Windy city. There had been a constant watch on the lodge room of the society kept for some time, and it was learned that every Saturday evening a man who proved afterwards to be the secretary of the concern would drive in a buggy, enter the building, and soon return with a heavy package, which was placed carefully in the buggy and taken to his home. The package was the record—the minutes of the society. That was soon discovered. How to get them was the question. "Later it was learned that the secretary kept his horse at a certain stable; inquiry developed the fact that there was a bill due and owing for board and lodging the horse. An attachment on the horse and buggy was taken out, and one Saturday afterneon, as the secretary was driving home with the precious documents it was served on him. He expostulated, but to no effect. They could have the buggy, but he insisted that he be allowed to take the package. This was refused. The attachment sor, covers th' bugg and every other dommed thing in it., said the son of the sod. "To make a long story short, the secretary was dragged out, and the buggy taken to headquarters. The secretary followed on foot, paid the bill and costs, but was horrfifed to learn that the precious package had vanished. High and low he hunted, but to no purpose. The only satisfaction he could get was that it must have been lost on the way to the station.

After Only One Month's Treatment at the Copeland Medical Institute, Located in the Progress Building, Under Dr. DeMonco.

Such is the astonishing but no less true statement of Mr. J. W. Macs, a tonsorial artist by profession, at No. 79 Eass Second South. He says:

"I have been afflicted with that terrible discase known as caterith for about eight years, commencing with a severe coid which I paid no attention to at the time, but gradually my nose became sore and clogged up. I had a pain in my head, atomach and bowels. I would arise in the morning, after a sleepless night, worn out, and go to work with a dull headache and feeling fired all day. In the morning I would cough, hawk and spli for a long time in my efforts to-remove the mucous from my throat which had accumulated during the night. I would also have hard coughing spells at times. "After only one month's treatment at the Copeland Medical inestinct I must say final I feel like a different man. All the pains I suffered with have left me. I sleep well at night, my cough has stopped and my nostrills are open. I was told by a physician, whom I consulted previous to going to the Copeland institute, that I was suffering with canker of the stomach.

"Having read the numerous testimonials of people who had been cured by them, I resolved to give them a trial with the result above stated, and recommend them to all who are suffering from cavarrhal troubles."

What the Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica is? It is the most complete and diversified

Library of Entertaining Literature

Ever issued from the press. Open its pages where you will, you will find something to attract and interest you.

If you are fond of history, it contains the finest collection of histories in the world, embracing every nation of ancient and modern times, from hoary Egypt, with its civilization running back for thousands upon thousands of years, to the latest born of the great family of nations. And they are not dry as dust histories, either, giving nothing but dates and mere descriptions of events; but genuine historical works, as interesting as Macaulay's History of England, and some of them from Lord Macaulay's pen. Or if you have a taste for travels and descriptions of strange countries and their peoples, the AMERICANIZED ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA will lead you with the famous voyagars and explorers among the sunny islands of the Southern Seas, through the dreary wastes of Arctic ice, across the pathless wilds of Africa, or among the quaint peoples of the East. It will tell you of the vanished civilization of Peru, of the growth or subsidence of feudalism in Europe, of the social and governmental polity of modern nations. And if, while you are reading, you come across some reference to a great man with whose deeds you are unfamiliar, the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica contains a perfect library of biographical memoirs, to which you can turn with the certainty of finding just exactly what you want to know.

Are you interested in science? The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica will tell you, in clear, understandable English, all about any science you may wish to study. Are you curious about mechanical inventions? The Ensyclopeedia describes them all. Or perhaps you want information about some industry or mode of manufacturing? Again the Encyclopædia is ready to your hand; a moment's turning of its pages brings the proper heading to your eyes, and there before you lies a complete and exhaustive account of the entire subject. In short, whether you want amusement for an idle hour, solid instruction for more serious moments, or quick information about any matter as to

IS THE YERY THING YOU NEED.

Why Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica? Because that is just exactly what it is—the Encyclopædia Britannica revised and amended for American use. You want your Encyclopedia to tell you about Grant and Sherman and Sheridan and Hancock and Cleveland and Harrison, don't you? Well, the Encyclopedia Britannica won't do it. But the Americanized edition will. The latest edition of the original Britannica was compiled fifteen years ago, and gives no biographies of persons who were living at that time. Maybe you don't know that? The Americanized edition contains hundreds of new biographies, specially written for its pages, and including every prominent man or woman in the world. You want fuller information about an American State than about an English county, don't you? You won't get it in the Encyclopædia Britannica, but you will in the Americanized Encyclopædia Britaunics. Because the former work was compiled specially for the use of Englishmen, while the latter has been amended and revised especially for use in American homes. Seef
